New York—September 8, 2025—Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP today announced that Alec Jarvis has joined the Firm's New York office as a Partner in the Tax Practice.

"Alec brings an incredible breadth of experience in M&A, including deep expertise in public company transactions, divestitures, carve-outs and spin-offs that will undoubtedly benefit our clients in what is an increasingly nuanced deal market. We are thrilled to welcome him to the team," said Marcy Geller, Co-Head of the Firm's Tax Practice.

"Success in today's deal market requires an increased level of technical expertise, legal acumen and depth of experience—all things which Alec brings in sponsor-backed and strategic transactions," said Nancy Mehlman, Co-Head of the Firm's Tax Practice. "His diverse experience is a perfect match for our incredibly talented Tax bench, who are known for providing clients with solutions-oriented, creative advice."

Alec advises clients on a broad range of U.S. and international tax matters, including public and private mergers, acquisitions and divestitures, including spin-offs, joint ventures and restructurings. He has also advised on equity and debt offerings and has counseled on the formation and operation of joint ventures and real estate investment trusts.

"As the markets become more global, clients are looking at more sophisticated and complex transactions, which bring unique tax challenges. Simpson Thacher's Tax Practice is known for its innovative work supporting clients across geographies and industries in the U.S. and abroad," said Alec. "I am excited to bring my experience to their platform and to help clients successfully close on their transactions."

Simpson Thacher's Tax Practice is continually called upon by investment funds, banks, multinational corporations and other leading companies for advice on their largest and most complex transactions. The global team works closely with colleagues in all of the Firm's transactional practices including Mergers and Acquisitions, Private Equity, Capital Markets, Investment Funds and Real Estate to offer clients the full spectrum of deal and fund capabilities.
