Sara is recognized by The Legal 500 as a "Leading Lawyer" and by Chambers USA. Sources describe her as "a very seasoned and knowledgeable antitrust attorney" who "has the unique ability to give very practical advice about how regulators would react to matters in a way that is actionable by in house counsel," with "extensive knowledge of agency strategy." In 2025 and 2023, Sara was named a Law360 "MVP" in Competition/Antitrust, and in 2024, Euromoney's Benchmark Litigation named Sara "Antitrust Litigator of the Year." In 2023, The Deal named Sara among the "Top Women in Dealmaking," for helping guide Change Healthcare through a DOJ antitrust challenge to its $13.8 billion combination with UnitedHealth Group. She was also named "Antitrust & Competition Lawyer of the Year" in 2023 by Euromoney's Women in Business Law Americas Awards and a 2023 Litigation "Trailblazer" by The National Law Journal. In 2025, Sara was also again featured as one of Global Competition Review's "Women in Antitrust," and separately described by the publication as one of the "best FTC merger advisers in the business." Sara is ranked as one of the "Top 250 Women in Litigation" in the U.S. by Euromoney's Benchmark Litigation. In addition, she is recognized by Who's Who Legal: Competition and by Lawdragon's "500 Leading Litigators in America"

guide. She has been a featured speaker or panelist at dozens of conferences and events sponsored by the ABA Antitrust Section, American Health Lawyers Association, and other organizations. Sara is a Board Member of the Legal Aid Society of the District of Columbia. She also serves as on the Firm's Finance Committee.

Sara joined Simpson Thacher in 2013 from the FTC, where she served in senior roles for nearly a decade. As Deputy Assistant Director, she directed numerous antitrust investigations and litigation challenges during a time of reinvigorated healthcare merger enforcement and served as a lead litigator in federal district courts and administrative hearings, including FTC v. ProMedica Health System and FTC v. Phoebe Putney Health System. As Attorney Advisor to FTC Chairman Deborah Platt Majoras from 2004 to 2008, she advised on a wide range of antitrust investigations, litigation and policy matters, with emphasis on energy, healthcare, technology and intellectual property issues. Sara received several FTC awards during her tenure, including the Bureau Director's Award, Award for Excellence in Supervision, and three Janet D. Steiger team litigation awards.

Sara earned her J.D., summa cum laude, from American University, Washington College of Law, in 2000, where she was Note and Comment Editor for the American University Law Review. She received her B.A. in molecular, cellular and developmental biology from the University of Colorado in 1995. She is admitted to the bar in the District of Columbia and Maryland.
